There are red carper, barracudas and lots of other species.

After the voyage by boat, we arrive at a small village, called Couba. There are several villages on this archipel of 5 islands, of which the inhabitants have mixed religions (Christianity and animism).

Their main activities are fishing, keeping cattle, agriculture(rice, fruit ,nuts) and the winning of palm wine.

Interesting places to visit are: the rice-fields and the dikes around(against the salt water) ,the planes with the cattle, the schools, shops, the small hospital at Couba, the church and of course, meeting the people who live there and learn a little bit about their culture.

- After all this, we take a typical African meal with one of the families.
- At four o'clock we leave the islands and go back by boat, where we wait for the taxi which will bring us back to Kafountine.
